

Goes To War

A few of the many Hollywood stars, other entertainers, and notables who served during World War II

Unlike the Hollywood and media of today, during World War II, actors, actresses, producers, columnists, etc. whether Democrat or Republican, they fully supported the war effort and President Roosevelt - and their support was not given because not to do would be considered treason, but rather they did so out of the love of their country. Some like John Wayne and Peter Falk tried everything in their power to enlist, but were classified 4F - Falk because he was blind in one eye and Wayne because of serious injuries caused by his performing his own stunts. Mickey Rooney stood on his toes to get to the minimum height requirement. Many were highly decorated and some were seriously injured in combat. Jack Palance received serious injuries to his face that resulted in major scarring and Star Trek's James Doonan took four machine gun bullets to the leg and chest and lost a finger. Some, like Ernie Pyle paid the ultimate price. Some like Amy Elizabeth Thorp, Heddy Lamar, and Julia Child were spies that worked behind enemy lines. Some like Josephine Baker and Audrey Hepburn fought with the French Resistance. There were those like Charlie Chaplin and Carol Lombard who raised millions in War Bonds and those like Bob Hope and Betty Grable who did an incredible job entertaining our front line troops while under fire. Many rose to high rank in their service. Jimmy Stewart rose to the rank of General in the Air Force.

This eBooklet contains several hundred of these heroes that served. If anyone can add to this list, I would appreciate your sharing that info with me. Just eMail me at: cy@hotlinecy.com

I am always looking for autographs of any of the subjects on this list. Type of items I am looking for are listed in order of preference below:

1. Postcard size or smaller signed photo
2. Signed 3" x 5" card
3. Clipped signature
4. Signed photos between postcard size and 8" x 10" - must see jpeg first

I cannot use anything larger than 8" x 10" unless it can be cut down to this size without detracting from the item

I have no interest in documents of any kind except for those where I can clip the signature. Seller might be better off to offer those items to one who collects documents

Please send me a list of the items you have and your asking price for either individual items or for the lot. I prefer to purchase lots and I can use multiples of a subject. I am not an autograph dealer. I create album pages of subjects related to the military from the Civil War to the present. Two examples are below.
